Maniac Spaceship is a single player action platformer where you have to fight against the greatest army that the galaxy has ever seen. In this game, you will be inside of a giant spaceship with hundreds of robots to defeat. Playing Maniac Spaceship is a crazy action filled journey full of punching, leaping and exploding. Imagine a game like Pac Man with hundreds of robots. This is Maniac Spaceship. Flint-A-Lecture is a puzzle-platformer where the player has to help Flint as he attempts to make his way through a jungle of deadly traps. There are multiple levels each with an end goal. Players can change the goal of the levels at any time. The player can set traps to kill Flint, however, Flint can also set traps to kill the player. Players can also change how many doors and levels they can access with a newly acquired key. And with over 30 different traps, Flint can set traps in any way possible. Castle Paradise is a shooter from Illusionist Games. The gameplay is very reminiscent of Goldeneye. Players will be able to take control of an old school FPS rifle and shoot through walls, ceilings and walls. Castle Paradise is a puzzle platformer game where players will play as a girl named Stephanie. Stephanie's goal is to survive through a series of traps and puzzles in an effort to save her father from the clutches of Baronesque. If she were to die, players will restart the game with higher points and all previous levels unlocked. Plumber is an isometric adventure game that sees you traveling through the sewers to save the princess. This story is split up into three chapters. The first chapter, "Red Cherry", is the introductory stage. This is also where players will meet the villain, The Grand Master. The second chapter, "Fury Red Cherry", is where the story really begins. The villain and the princess are now in a trap fight. The third chapter

- A Space Mercenary Story Beta Alpha BETA Alpha Transcript (STORY INTENDED FOR MALES) [Image of a space fighter skidding with resistance][Image of fighter launching an explosive shrapnel at Main Battle Ship] SPACEMAN [VOICE]: [This series is for boys between the ages of 5-10 years old. Sometimes kids that age become space warriors, then again, kids come into our lives for other reasons. But always at a time when their core values are being challenged.] SPACEMAN [VOICE]: [If you're like us and you're ready to prove just how much you know about space in sixty seconds or less, then we're all ears.] (Overture) (MUSIC STARTS) [Image of a man lying on a command chair across from a computer screen. The man looks out into space far over his shoulder.] SPACEMAN [VOICE]: [The year is 2299... (Image cuts to reveal the man's face. It is recognisably that of Alex Mercer, the main character of this series. He is studying the screen, his eyes flitting between various pieces of information. Looks back into space. Astronaut's report. Noticeable bullet holes and shattered windows on the others...)] SPACEMAN: [We are sending one of our ships towards the exact location that was targeted by the missile. Once there, it will activate a time rift that will erode its gravitational fabric back to its starting point in Earth's past. That means that both our fighter and the missile will disappear in the same place in all time. They will never be seen again, unless years later, in the wrong hands, someone decides to look for them. It's essentially the perfect time machine. They've only ever existed for that briefest of moments.] SPACEMAN: [And now for the antidote to all of that space-haha...] (Image cuts to: A space fighter pilot - Cade Mitchell, a space fighter pilot - parachuting to the ground. Scene shows him standing up, checking his space fighter and then running away from it. The fighter explodes and flaming debris rains over him. He looks frightened and is unable to hide it. Eventually, he makes a run for a local diner]
